CURRENT RELEASE NOTES

The data is maintained by the respective provinces and territories. Typically updating is carried out as changes occur, that is, on an as needed basis. The update cycle varies from one province or territory to the other. This may take place from an arbitrary number of times a year to once every several years. In some cases data may be updated and released on a quarterly or yearly cycle. In one of the territories the data is considered as static at this time. The table below provides information on the intended update frequency for each of the provinces and territories.
