

The Base Vein map area is the northern part of the Fleur de Lys Peninsula (Newfoundland and Labrador) and is one of three areas in the province that are based on new or revised geological and mineral resource data. The map area is based on the Fleur de Lys Peninsula (Newfoundland and Labrador) and is one of three areas in the province that are based on new or revised geological and mineral resource data. The map area is based on the Fleur de Lys Peninsula (Newfoundland and Labrador) and is one of three areas in the province that are based on new or revised geological and mineral resource data.

