Energy, Mines and Resources Canada (EMR), through the Metals Technology Laboratories (MTL) of CANMET (Canada Centre for Mineral and Energy Technology), is the Certifying Agency for the Canadian Non Destructive Testing Personnel Certification Program. EMR certifies individuals according to standards developed by the Canadian General Standards Board (CGSB).

In performing this function, EMR carries out the following tasks:

- a) examines information provided by the applicant to ensure that the applicant has the basic education, NDT training and experience required by the standards;
- b) prepares, supervises and evaluates both written and practical examinations;
- c) maintains a network of test centres across Canada for both written and practical examinations; and,
- d) renews certificates of candidates as specified by the standards.

In certifying the candidate, EMR is only attesting that the candidate has demonstrated sufficient knowledge, skill, training and experience to meet the requirements of the relevant CGSB standard. EMR cannot attest to the operators competence in any specific situation at the time of original certification or at any time, thereafter.

In undertaking the administration of the program, EMR attempts to provide the unbiased Canada-wide services required to implement a national program. An Advisory Committee composed of individuals knowledgeable about NDT in Canada advises EMR on the operation of this program.

Énergie, Mines et Ressources Canada, (EMR), par l'intermédiaire des Laboratoires de la technologie des métaux (LTM) du Centre canadien de la technologie des minéraux et de l'énergie (CANMET), est l'Organisme de certification responsable du Programme canadien d'accréditation du personnel affecté au contrôle non destructif des matériaux. EMR accrédite les personnes conformément aux normes développées par l'Office des normes générales du Canada (ONGC).

Pour satisfaire aux exigences de cette fonction, EMR accomplit les tâches suivantes:

- a) étudie les renseignements fournis par les candidats(es) pour s'assurer qu'ils/elles possèdent les connaissances techniques de base et la formation requise dans le domaine des essais non destructifs, conformément aux normes;
- b) prépare, supervise et évalue les examens écrits et pratiques;
- c) maintient un réseau national de centres d'examens pour l'administration des examens écrits et pratiques; et
- d) renouvelle les certificats des candidats(es) tel que spécifié dans les normes.

En accréditant un/une candidat(e), EMR ne fait qu'attester que cette personne a démontré qu'elle possède suffisamment de connaissance, d'aptitudes, de formation et d'expérience pour répondre aux exigences d'une norme particulière de l'ONGC. EMR ne peut attester de la compétence des opérateurs dans une situation spécifique au moment de la certification initiale ou en tout autre temps par la suite.

En administrant le programme, EMR cherche à fournir, de façon équitable, les services nécessaires à l'application d'un programme national. Un conseil consultatif composé de personnes qui connaissent bien le domaine des essais non destructifs au Canada conseille EMR sur la mise en oeuvre du programme.
