The Metals Technology Laboratories, CANMET

Located in Ottawa, the Metals Technology Laboratories, MTL, is the largest research centre in Canada dedicated to metals processing and evaluation. A technical staff of 90 scientists and technologists, working in 6 000 square metres of well-equipped laboratories are engaged in a diverse research and development program in support of policy initiatives affecting the metals sector of Canadian industry. In collaboration with regulatory agencies and the private sector, MTL develops and transfers technology to enhance competitiveness. The laboratories work to improve industrial health, safety, and environmental protection standards and practices.

MTL will perform research for clients on a timely, confidential cost-recovery basis, or if appropriate on a cost-shared basis. MTL undertakes research designed to assist industry achieve long-term goals. Priority is given to projects with strong industrial support.

MTL's research portfolio is organized into five major areas of technology:

- Materials for the Resource Industries
- Foundry Technology
- Non-Ferrous Products
- Steel Technology, and
- Advanced Metallic Materials

Each of these programs is guided and monitored by a technical advisory group of experts from client organizations with the exception Non-Ferrous Products activities which stem directly from private-sector initiatives and funding and do not require an external steering group.

Les Laboratoires de la Technologie des Métaux

Situés à Ottawa, les laboratoires de la technologie des métaux (LTM) constituent le plus grand centre de recherche au Canada voué à la production et l'évaluation des métaux. Le personnel technique, occupant 6 000 m² de laboratoires bien équipés, comprend 90 scientifiques et techniciens engagés dans un programme varié de recherche et développement visant à appuyer les initiatives d'intérêt public qui concernent le secteur de l'industrie canadienne des métaux. En collaboration avec les organismes de réglementation et avec le secteur privé, les LTM mettent au point la technologie et effectuent les transferts de cette technologie pour accroître la compétitivité de l'industrie canadienne. Les laboratoires cherchent à améliorer les pratiques et normes en matière de santé et sécurité, et de protection de l'environnement.

Les LTM travaillent pour et avec l'industrie sidérurgique dans le cadre d'une entente de recouvrement des coûts ou à frais partagés avec l'industrie. Les LTM financent un programme de recherche conçu pour aider la sidérurgie à résoudre des problèmes à long terme. La priorité est donnée aux projets fortement appuyés par l'industrie.

Le portefeuille de recherche des LTM est subdivisé en cinq grands domaines technologiques:

- Matériaux pour les industries extractives
- Technologie des fonderies
- Produits non ferreux
- Technologie des aciers, et
- Matériaux métalliques de pointe.

A l'exception du secteur des produits non ferreux, chacun de ces programmes est guidé et surveillé par un groupe consultatif technique d'experts provenant d'organisations clientes. Les activités de recherche relatives aux produits non ferreux résultent directement des initiatives et du financement du secteur privé, et n'exigent donc pas la présence d'un groupe directeur.

Energy, Mines and Resources Canada (EMR), through the Metals Technology Laboratories (MTL) of CANMET (Canada Centre for Mineral and Energy Technology), is the Certifying Agency for the Canadian Non Destructive Testing Personnel Certification Program. EMR certifies individuals according to standards developed by the Canadian General Standards Board (CGSB).

In performing this function, EMR carries out the following tasks:

- a) examines information provided by the applicant to ensure that the applicant has the basic education, NDT training and experience required by the standards;
- b) prepares, supervises and evaluates both written and practical examinations;
- c) maintains a network of test centres across Canada for both written and practical examinations; and,
- d) renews certificates of candidates as specified by the standards.

In certifying the candidate, EMR is only attesting that the candidate has demonstrated sufficient knowledge, skill, training and experience to meet the requirements of the relevant CGSB standard. EMR cannot attest to the operators competence in any specific situation at the time of original certification or at any time, thereafter.

In undertaking the administration of the program, EMR attempts to provide the unbiased Canada-wide services required to implement a national program. An Advisory Committee composed of individuals knowledgeable about NDT in Canada advises EMR on the operation of this program.

Énergie, Mines et Ressources Canada, (EMR), par l'intermédiaire des Laboratoires de la technologie des métaux (LTM) du Centre canadien de la technologie des minéraux et de l'énergie (CANMET), est l'Organisme de certification responsable du Programme canadien d'accréditation du personnel affecté au contrôle non destructif des matériaux. EMR accrédite les personnes conformément aux normes développées par l'Office des normes générales du Canada (ONGC).

Pour satisfaire aux exigences de cette fonction, EMR accomplit les tâches suivantes:

- a) étudie les renseignements fournies par les candidats(es) pour s'assurer qu'ils/elles possèdent les connaissances techniques de base et la formation requise dans le domaine des essais non destructifs, conformément aux normes;
- b) prépare, supervise et évalue les examens écrits et pratiques;
- c) maintient un réseau national de centres d'examens pour l'administration des examens écrits et pratiques; et
- d) renouvelle les certificats des candidats(es) tel que spécifié dans les normes.

En accréditant un/une candidat(e), EMR ne fait qu'attester que cette personne a démontré qu'elle possède suffisamment de connaissance, d'aptitudes, de formation et d'expérience pour répondre aux exigences d'une norme particulière de l'ONGC. EMR ne peut attester de la compétence des opérateurs dans une situation spécifique au moment de la certification initiale ou en tout autre temps par la suite.

En administrant le programme, EMR cherche à fournir, de façon équitable, les services nécessaires à l'application d'un programme national. Un conseil consultatif composé de personnes qui connaissent bien le domaine des essais non destructifs au Canada conseille EMR sur la mise en oeuvre du programme.
