List of
Ground Water Supply Papers

Reports on ground-water supply were first released in regular Geological Survey publications, the earliest being in the Annual Report for 1901, which was published in 1904. In 1936 a Water Supply Paper series was begun with the publication, in mimeographed form, of the results of field work in southern Saskatchewan and east-central Alberta in 1935¹. Water Supply Papers 1 to 264 pertain to the early Saskatchewan surveys; papers 1 to 225 were published in 1936 and papers 227 to 264 in 1947. Papers 265 to 274 pertain to the Alberta surveys and were published in 1947. Water Supply Paper 226 (Saskatchewan) and Papers 275 to 283 (Alberta) have not been published but the essential data are on file in the ground-water offices of the Geological Survey of Canada.

The results of field work carried out in seven townships near Toronto, Ontario, in 1936, were published in 1947 and 1948. From 1945 to the present field work has been carried out, roughly in chronological order, in Ontario, Alberta, Manitoba, Prince Edward Island, British Columbia, and Saskatchewan.

The first 225 reports were named Preliminary Reports; thereafter the term "preliminary" was omitted. Water Supply Paper No. 329 is the last of this series and format; henceforth ground-water reports will again appear as regular Geological Survey publications.

When Water Supply Papers were first published, copies were supplied to the local municipalities in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Therefore, these papers may probably be consulted at the offices of the municipality concerned. The Saskatchewan papers may also be consulted at the offices of the Water Resources Branch, Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, in Regina. Further, or specific information may be obtained by applying to the Director, Geological Survey of Canada, Department of Mines and Technical Surveys, 601 Booth Street, Ottawa.

In the areas listed below, written reports and maps are not available but water well data have been compiled. These data may be consulted at the Geological Survey, or information on how to obtain data may be obtained by writing the Director, Geological Survey of Canada, 601 Booth Street, Ottawa 4.
