Notes:
The map shows Geostatistical Areas used for the 1981 Census of Canada. All Census Divisions, a selection of Census Subdivisions, Census Metropolitan Areas and Census Agglomerations are symbolized and indexed to Statistics Canada census lists. This allows the map to be used to compare other thematic maps of The National Atlas with census information.

A Census Metropolitan Area (CMA) or Census Agglomeration (CA) refers to the main labour market area of an urbanized core or continuously built-up area. CMAs have populations of 100 000 or more and CAs have populations between 10 000 and 99 999.

CMAs and CAs are established by Statistics Canada, certain whole municipalities (census subdivisions) on the periphery of the built-up area and which are highly integrated with it forming their urbanized core. Since a CMA or a CA must contain whole census subdivisions, its limits may, within, or extend beyond, the actual labour market area.

Census divisions and subdivisions are geostatistical areas used for the collection and ordering of socio-economic information contained in the Census of Canada and serve as a base for thematic mapping and analysis. They are defined in accordance with criteria which are independent of the status of census subdivisions, and for the purpose of this map a selection number of these subdivisions have been shown. Complete coverage of cities, towns, villages, other municipalities and Indian reserves is shown on the National Atlas of Canada, 5th edition map entitled, CANADA — GEOSTATISTICAL AREAS, 1981 Census — Municipalities and Indian Reserves.
