

1996 Population

---

According to the 1996 Census the population of Canada in 1996 is 28 846 761. Almost all of Canada's population is concentrated in a narrow band along the country's southern edge. The population is also concentrated by province: Ontario and Quebec together contain 62% of the total population.

