Mr James White

Dear Sir -

on M.I.P?

Our postoffice was named after W. S. Calvert.
A few years ago some of the men in this vicinity petitioned Mr Calvert for a postoffice here. He granted it, and I suppose gave it his name. At any rate that is the name it received.
Besides the postoffice, there is a school and a cemetery known as "Brown's Graveyard". It is very seldom that anyone is buried there now. It is almost a thing of the past.

Yours Truly,
L. E. Bryant.
